if treated with a prostaglandin inhibitor, aldosterone levels returned to normal in fact their motivation to conclude a consent order is not necessarily actuated by guilt this treatment regimen may work to temporarily ease back pain for some, but chiropractors will often refer patients to a medical doctor for holistic treatment.